put GAS TO THE TEST when planning for your new range

As a cooking fuel, Gas has always been economical and easy to use... remarkably fast and readily controlled to precise temperatures. It's the proven method of cooking. But the Gas ranges now coming on the market utilize these characteristics to far better advantage than ever before. Automatic clock-controlled ovens are a new feature, for example—big, roomy smokeless broilers and a wide choice of smart cabinet styles and appointments are also offered by leading manufacturers.

So, when you plan your new range, be sure not to judge Gas cooking by the performance of an old range. Read these facts—then look at the new ranges. Some new models are now on display at Registered Gas Appliance Dealers, and at your Gas Company office. Shop now for earliest delivery.

check THESE FACTS about gas cooking

- ✓ THE PROVEN METHOD OF COOKING—Most convenient, easy to use. Nothing complicated about Gas range operation—no need to discard successful methods to learn new ways. Instant lighting of surface burners, immediate maximum heat, perfect control of multiple speeds—just select the heat for the cooking, instead of adjusting your cooking to the heat available. Perfect circulation and continuous control of oven heat—foods are evenly cooked throughout—without being moved. Decidedly the simplest, most certain of all cooking methods.
- ✓ COMPLETELY DEPENDABLE—Gas service is continuous—a turn of a valve brings instant heat. So perfectly controllable that excellent cooking results can be counted upon with certainty.
- ✓ MOST ECONOMICAL—No other cooking fuel gives so much for so little. Remember, too, that gas ranges cost less than comparable equipment—require no costly repairs or replacements. And there are no installation complications.
- ✓ SPEEDIEST COOKING—Surface burners deliver maximum heat instantly—no warm-up period. Ovens attain highest heats faster than any other type.
- ✓ CLEANLINESS—The clean blue flame of the modern Gas range burner leaves no residue. Clog-proof and rust-resistant, burners can be removed quickly, and without fear of damage, for easy cleaning if necessary.

Services For Manufacturer On Thursday

Funeral services in memory of G. G. Greene, Sr., will be held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock from the Lutz Funeral Home, Rev. Wayne Furman, of First Methodist church, will officiate and interment will be in Pine Grove cemetery at Russell.

Mr. Greene passed away at his home early Monday following a brief illness. His demise closed a colorful business career in Warren county where he leaves a host of friends and associates who were deeply grieved to learn of his passing. He was born March 14, 1885 at Starbuck and spent his entire lifetime in Warren county. Besides his wife, Beatrice L. Greene, he leaves one son, Glenn

G. G. Greene, Sr.

G. G. two daughters, Martha B. and Beatrice L., along with four grandchildren. One son preceded him in death.

Mr. Greene's business career dates back to 1904 when he started business in a small building on the family farm at Starbuck making home fasteners of his own invention for which he obtained patent rights. This venture proved successful, facilities were expanded in 1913 to include the manufacture of additional items. This expansion resulted in a transportation problem which Mr. Greene solved by operating a bus line between Warren and Youngsville.

A few years later he started the G. G. Greene Manufacturing Corporation in Pennsylvania avenue, west. Through his guidance this company has enjoyed a steady and rapid growth and today is one of the most modernly equipped plants in this area.

In 1944 he acquired the Warren Wholesale building in Fourth avenue and formed G. G. Greene, Inc. and Pennwood Products, Inc. At the time of his death he was president of these concerns, as well as G. G. Greene Manufacturing Corporation and GGG Metal Stamping Company, Inc. All these companies will be closed Wednesday and Thursday in respect to him.

Mr. Greene's success is credited to his mechanical genius, his friendly nature and personal consideration to his employees as well as to all with whom he came in contact. His was a pioneering spirit which will be sorely missed in the community.

Book Wows Japs

Ernest Hoberrecht, 29, United Press correspondent from Watonga, Okla., has hit the jackpot in Japan with a highly-spiced book called "Tokyo Romance." It is the story of a GI occupation soldier and a Japanese girl. Richard Ferguson, NEA-Acme photographer, caught this picture of Hoberrecht looking like an author in Tokyo.

The office is a part of the largely expanded field service of the department and serves Erie, Crawford, Mercer, Warren, Vanango, Forest, Elk, Cameron, Potter and McKean counties.

EXCHANGE CLUB The Exchange Club will have a dinner meeting tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Blue and White Restaurant. Archie Hunter will show movies of various sports and plans will be made for the public meeting to be held November 20 in the Beatty School auditorium. Speaker for this meeting will be James Blackwell, director of special education in the state of Pennsylvania, who will have for his topic, "Rehabilitation of Cleft Palate Patients."

GETS JAIL TERM Ward George, of Tidoute, arrested last week on a charge of chicken stealing is serving a term of 60 days in the county jail and must also pay the costs of prosecution. George was hauled from Tidoute by Sheriff L. E. Linder and State Policeman Les Fobes. Large numbers of chickens have been reported stolen in the Tidoute section and from some coops 15 have been taken on one night. Some of the chickens were traced to Union City. The officers are still carrying on the investigation.

the Park department and a resolution for the purchase of a Chevrolet truck for the sum of $1535.21 was passed.

The ordinance setting limits for the construction of various types of structures in certain sections of the city passed third reading. Known as the zoning ordinance it received a unanimous vote.

The airport produced the sum of $252.64 for the city and in a series of motions the Airport committee was authorized to buy material and hire labor toward the completion of the shop at the airport. Advertising will be done for a heating plant, bids to be opened at the next meeting.

Borough solicitor Blackman reported a hearing on November 15th relative to the new switch, already in use, for the Warren Bakery Company. He also read a letter from Col. Lorence, U. S. Engineer at Pittsburgh relative to the filling of the mill race and pond. Col. Lorence pointed out the Conewago creek in which the dam is located is not a navigable stream and that closing the mill pond would probably have a negligible effect on the river. However the borough solicitor was directed to take the matter up with the State Department of Forests and Waters.

The Board of Health reported that conditions back of the abattoirs were bad but some day the river will rise and carry the refuse away.

Letters were read from W. A. Walker, J. H. Alexander and Ben Kunneer declining service on the Zoning Board.

Dirt Will Soon Be Flying On Extension of Spring Street

Spring street, one of the side hill streets in the Fourth ward, will soon have egress onto Beech street due to passage of an ordinance setting grades, etc., for the construction. The street for years has been a question before council. In wintry months the fire department, funeral directors and gentrymen have had difficulty in getting onto the street either by way of Public Way or Stone Hill road. During the summer months and every few months an appeal has been made to council for action.

Despite the fact that most of the residents wanted the improvement there was a remonstrance presented against it last night. A delegation of residents was in attendance at the council meeting and much time was lost in presentation of arguments which should have been heard by the street committee.

Another delegation of men and women interested in the development of the Home street school playground appeared and presented a petition asking that grading be done this fall on the playground. A five point program was presented under which grading be done, stumps and debris removed and the grounds generally be placed in a safe condition. Several persons spoke in behalf of the Mothers Club, urging the work. The park committee has the matter on its agenda and action was promised.

Winners For Play Poster Competition

Judges for the Clara Tree Major poster contest sponsored by the Community PTA Council met with much difficulty in selecting the winners, because of the many entries submitted by students of the borough schools. Winners chosen and grades represented by their work, were as follows:

Grade One—1st, Jane Harrington; 2nd, Nancy Grosch, both of Home Street building. Grade Two—1st, Nancy Kabin; 2nd, Donna Watson, both of Home Street. Grade Three—1st, Charles Anderson; 2nd, Dorothy Mathyer; honorable mention, Donald Cook, all of Lacy building. Fourth Grade—1st, Karen Chapman, Seneca; 2nd, Janet Lauffer, Lacy; honorable mention, Beverly Hamblin, Seneca. Fifth Grade—1st, Mary Ann O'Dell, Lacy; 2nd, Jay Tamburine, McClintock. Sixth Grade—1st, Wilbur Johnson; 2nd, Neal Rickerson; honorable mention, Leonard Monticello, all of Lacy. Orthogenic Classes—1st, Richard Hendessy, South.

In addition to the above, several posters did not meet the contest regulations as to size, but were of such fine content it was decided to show them to the winners. These posters were the work of Howard Pratt, sixth grade, and Joyce Reynolds, Rommy Graziano, Ronald Anderson, McClintock building, and Dick Valone, East street.

The winners were placed in the window at the Miller Dress Shop, Liberty street, Monday afternoon, and are attracting much attention from the passersby.

Sugar Grove Legion Plans Service-Dinner

Sugar Grove American Legion and Auxiliary members will have a special Armistice Day service at the Methodist church at that place at 11 a. m. Sunday. Several speakers will include the pastor, Rev. Carleton Foss.

On Monday evening the two groups will have a tureen supper and informal program for all members and their ladies in the American Legion Home.

Serving as the committee on arrangements for the affair will be John Thorpe, commander; Alden Stearns, H. H. Sanders, Mrs. Kenneth Frank, John Bruce and Mrs. Allen Seaman.

DRILLS IN WELL

It is reported that Dave Beatty, Conewago avenue, drilled in a 20-barrel well on his lease at Morrison Run recently, and expects to put down several more in that section.

WILL BE SPEAKER

Rev. Benjamin P. Browne, executive secretary of the Pennsylvania Baptist Convention, will be the speaker for both the morning worship and the five o'clock vesper hour at First Baptist church next Sunday. An informal social hour will follow the vespers and all members and friends of the church are invited.

STEPS IN BAD SHAPE

Steps leading from the ticket office down to the field at Russell Park are in terrible shape and it is fortunate that some person has not fallen and suffered severe injury. Inasmuch as several games are still to be played by the Red Jackets trouble and suffering might be saved if the school board would make proper repairs.

COMPLETES COURSE

Lee Dunham, 835 Hickory street, has recently received his diploma following completion of his course in mechanical drafting from the International Correspondence Schools of Scranton. Through his course, Mr. Dunham was placed at Hammond Iron Works as a draftsman. He has recently completed arrangements for enrolling for another course in structural engineering with the I. C. S.

PLACING SNOW FENCES

Employees of the highway department in this county are now at work placing snow fences at strategic places along the county to stop drifting snow during the winter. The date for placing the snow fence opened on November 1st, and already several hundred feet of the fence has been put in place. It must all be removed by April 1st. Under dumps have been made along highways so that binders may be applied during periods when ice covers the highways.

AMENDMENT ANNOUNCED

Frank S. Anderson, area rent director of Erie and Warren counties has announced new amendments to the hotel and rooming house regulations effective at once. They require the filing of a supplementary statement of registration by the proprietor of each transient hotel, rooming house or motor court by December 31st. The new supplementary registration statement giving additional date on terms of weekly and monthly occupancy, dining room, kitchen and other facilities; and service equipment and privilege provided will be required to and landlords previously registered under the hotel and rooming house regulation.

LOTTSVILLE

Lottsville, Nov. 1—Mr. and Mrs. Herman Abbott with Mrs. Loren Wells traveled to Pittsburgh last Saturday to get Corp. Loren Wells who returned home from Camp Polk, La., with a terminal leave. Corp. Wells served 35 months in the European theatre and returned to the states in August and has been stationed at Camp Polk, La., since. Mr. and Mrs. James Fitzgerald with Harold Mitchell and Miss Vera Adams enjoyed a pleasure trip to the Tionesta Dam and through Cooks Forest last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Moore and family from Erie were last weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Carr. Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Goodwill of Pittsburgh were guests three days this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wells. Rocena B. Stone of Warren spent the weekend with her sister Mrs. Allen Baker and family, all of them enjoying a drive around Chautauqua Lake Sunday. Miss Evelyn Henry spent the weekend at her home in Tionesta. Mrs. Don Carr has been substituting teacher this week, teaching the second grade for Mrs. Covell. Mrs. Ray Wells and Mrs. R. C. Goodwill were Wednesday visitors of Mrs. Edith Carlson in Youngsville. Miss Lois Lillie spent the weekend at her home in Spring Creek. The Halloween party held Thursday night in the I. O. O. F. Hall and sponsored by the Rebekahs was a big success. At least dressed Earl Baker, most original Clara Welsh, and worst dressed Dorothy and Margaret Lake. A cock walk followed and Ellen Manwaring was the lucky winner. A large crowd stayed for the round and square dancing which followed. Sandwiches and coughnuts and coffee were served at 12:00. About $55 was taken in and the total profit has not yet been reported.

WINGS OF TOMORROW: The Story of Aviation

BY CHARLES TRACY
Aviation editor, Cleveland Press; former Army pilot (Written for NEA Service)

(1) Modern warfare was revolutionized by air power in World War II. The performance of all types of aircraft was improved, and new methods of carrying out attacks were devised. Airborne infantrymen, carried aloft in giant gliders towed three at a time by transports, were important invasion components. Parachutists dropped behind enemy lines to harass and disrupt defenses. Squadrons of troop carrier and combat cargo planes carried out special missions in co-operation with ground forces, hauling artillery, troops, and supplies. Carrier aircraft saved many lives by swiftly evacuating wounded soldiers from battle zones to distant hospitals.

(2) Dog-fights in World War II were brief. The speed of modern fighters cut down their maneuverability. Aerial fights began and ended with a fast dive by the attacking plane on its foe. There was time for only a short burst from .50-caliber machine guns or 20-millimeter cannon. Aim had to be good, for the attacking pilot sped past his target at 400 miles an hour and was unable to turn quickly for a second run.

(3) Night fighters were developed and equipped with the latest radar devices. Operators aboard Black Widow P-61s could direct their pilots within firing range of enemy craft, tell them when their guns were on the foe, and enable them to send enemy planes flaming in the night. A foot-square magic box called "IFF" (Identification—Friend or Foe), in reality a small radio transmitter, was carried by all Allied planes. It was set to send a coded signal which distinguished, on a radar screen, friendly from enemy planes.

(4) The necessity of supplying armies scattered from Alaska to Burma called for an elaborate air force in itself—an air fleet of giant cargo planes. Notable among these was the old standby of the air lines—the Douglas DC-3. Later came the Curtiss Commando—C-46—the C-87, converted Consolidated B-24 bomber, and the Douglas DC-4. In them young Army pilots trekked over oceans to far corners of the globe in a steady caravan, making it hard to believe that Lindbergh had become a hero by flying the Atlantic less than 20 years before. They pioneered the world's most treacherous routes, such as the run from India to China over the lofty Himalayan mountains, hauling gasoline and vital materials for Allied armies.

FOREIGN MINISTERS CONFERENCE

The Big Four Foreign Ministers are meeting in New York, and according to James Marlow, Associated Press foreign affairs analyst, here's why:

1. They start final work on peace treaties for Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland.
2. They hope to finish up those five treaties and reach agreement on them by Nov. 20. They've been working on them for a year.
3. After Nov. 20 they expect to start work on a peace treaty for Germany. With the other five out of the way, they can do that.
4. This meeting of the foreign ministers is separate from the meeting of the 51 United Nations in New York. The U. N. has other business.
5. There'll be fireworks among the ministers on the five treaties between now and Nov. 20.
6. And when they start work on the German treaty after Nov. 20 there'll be still more fireworks.

Here's how the whole thing started:

President Truman, Russia's Prime Minister Stalin and Britain's Prime Minister Attlee met in Potsdam Germany in the summer of 1945.

Knowing that working out peace treaties was a long and tough job, they agreed to let their foreign ministers do it.

Starting in September, 1945, and winding up in July, 1946, the foreign ministers met four times—in London, Moscow and Paris.

Helped by their large staffs who had to clear up immense details, the foreign ministers argued and struggled to reach some agreements.

They finally got together five agreements, or treaties, in a general kind of way.

Then they called a conference of 21 nations—including the United States, Britain, Russia, France—which had some interest in these treaties.

This conference of 21 nations—a peace conference—opened in Paris in July and ended Oct. 15.

There was a great deal of struggle at the conference between Russia and its friends, like Yugoslavia, on one side and the U. S. and Britain and their friends on the other.

The peace conference had no power to do anything final about the treaties. All it could really do, by voting, was to suggest changes in the treaties which the foreign ministers laid before it in July.

Then these treaties with the changes—or, rather, the recommendations of the peace conference—went back to the foreign ministers. Now they've taken those treaties to New York to sweat over them some more.

Plant Right, Drain Well, To Insure Bulb Success

TULIPS - 6 INCHES
HYACINTHS - 6 INCHES
CROCUS - 2 INCHES
SCILLA - 3 INCHES
DAFFODILS - 6 INCHES

Fall Bulbs and Their Best Planting Depths.

There are no flowers easier for the beginner to grow than hardy bulbs. If he plants them deep enough in a well drained location, where damp soil will not cause them to decay, flowers the following spring are as nearly certain as anything in horticulture can be.

The depth of planting is important, and of course good porous soil is to be preferred. But bulbs grow well in average garden soil, even when it is somewhat heavy. The minimum depth of planting for the various kinds is shown in the accompanying illustrations. If set less than this, they are likely to be injured by the heaving of the soil when it thaws out after freezing.

Tulips which are to be left in the ground from year to year without being lifted should be planted 10 inches deep, even more in sandy soil; as deep planting keeps the bulbs from splitting into smaller bulbs, some of which will not bloom, and insures a longer life. It also enables you to grow annuals above the tulips; and prevents disturbance of the bulbs when planting perennials.

Soil for bulbs should be worked deeply, if possible. Commercial plant food should be spread on the surface, 4 pounds to 100 square feet, and spaded in. When the bulbs are planted among perennials, dig a good sized hole for each with a trowel. A dibber may be used when planting in spaded soil, but take care that the bulb is not caught against the walls of the hole, with air beneath it. It should be firmly in contact with the soil at all points.

When there is doubt about the thorough drainage of a bed, it may be elevated above the surrounding surface, and the bulbs then planted. Bulbs should be planted as soon as practical after they have been received. The more time they have to develop roots before the ground freezes, the less likely they are to suffer from frost heaving.

Daffodils and hyacinths, which blossom early in the spring, benefit from early planting in the fall; and so do the early flowering minor bulbs, snowdrops, scillas and crocuses.

But when early planting is not practical, all fall bulbs may be set out late, as long as the soil is not frozen deeply, but can be dug and will pack well about the bulbs. When planting is done late, a mulch of leaves or similar covering should be placed over the bed after the ground is frozen, to prevent frost heaving.

MORE BIG GAME

To many a stay-at-home, U. S. wild life seems largely to consist of rabbits, which invade his garden, a few deer, which he sees roped to hunters' automobiles, and an occasional mountain lion or bear which somehow pops into the news. Pathfinder new magazine points out.

Fact is, however, that for every 20 people, one major big game animal still roams woods, plains or mountains. The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service has counted a whopping 7,100,000 deer, bears, etc. (two million more than its first big game census in 1937).

Moreover, the Forest Service has inventoried 155,000 lynx and bobcats, 6,000 mountain lions. 313,000 coyotes and 1,600 wolves in 39 states. Uncounted hundreds more are outside national forest land.

Discussion of the budget is already under way by councilmen. One of the needed items that should be included is a new quad ladder truck for the fire department. Chief Albaugh and his men are unanimous on the need for the new truck. An order placed early next year would not get delivery for many months and little foresight should be given the matter.

Once upon a time the Town Council moved into action at 7:30 and had all business transacted by 8:30. However that was during the days when committees thrashed out matters and returned a recommendation to Council which was accepted without debate. Now the Council meetings resemble a knitting society.

Warren's school board has elected a new assistant superintendent of schools. Probably due to the evaluating report which as yet has not been given to the public. Rumors relative to the report have been flying thick and fast some saying the schools are not in the healthiest condition.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

In 1926

At a meeting of Roy Russell's committee held this noon in the Buick Garage, many more new ideas were brought up and acted on in regards to the big pop-instilling celebrations in Warren Friday night and Saturday morning before the Warren-Jamestown football game. All Jamestown were invited to come to Warren with their cars and bands and join the parade to be held Saturday morning.

New parking changes now allow motorists to park their cars on the lawns between the sidewalk and the curb on the east side of Market street between Pennsylvania avenue and Second avenue, on the south side of Second avenue between Market and East street, and on Liberty street between Third and Fourth avenues.

"Cohen and Kelley" is a picture modeled very much after "Abbie's Irish Rose" and "Old Clothes", but it will repay anyone to see it at the final showing at the Library Theater tonight.

The smoke masks which were recently purchased by the fire department have been given a thorough test and Chief Gordon states that they will do everything claimed by the manufacturers and that firemen may go into smoke filled rooms with perfect safety as long as the atmosphere.

In 1936

William (Bill) Mulvey, popular local young man, has just accepted a position as manager of the men's wear department at the J. C. Penney company. He will be glad to greet his many friends here.

The Warren HyVis Oil gridders disposed of another major opponent Sunday afternoon at Russell Field when they copped a 12-0 romp from the strong McKeesport Olympics.

One person was arrested during the night and arraigned before Justice of the Peace Clark E. Nelson in police court this morning on a charge of intoxication.

Frank Williams' little band that has "it" will furnish the music for the party at the V. F. W. this evening.

It was reported by Superintendent John G. Rossman that the fire alarm systems installed at the high school, Jefferson and South street buildings have been approved by the state department of labor and industry in the regular meeting of the school directors in the November session.

Washington Daybook

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON - The number of newsmen attending the bi-weekly conferences held at the White House by Mrs. Truman's secretaries is dwindling.

There just isn't enough news coming out of them to make them worth while.

The meetings are usually held in the Green Room on the first floor of the Executive Mansion. The secretaries are Mrs. James M. Heilm and Miss Reatha Odum.

There are too many "I don't know's" to questions the newsmen ask about things which would be of interest to the general public.

Most of the information that comes out of these conferences is a list of the First Lady's social engagements.

These are usually not world-shaking and are generally only of interest to local society editors.

AT A RECENT conference we learned that fall house cleaning was just about completed. All the rooms on the first floor, soon to be reopened to sightseers in the days before the war, have been getting a good going over.

We learned it's a big job waxing the floors, polishing the gilt and marble, cleaning the crystal, the mirrors, the rugs, draperies and upholstered chairs.

We learned that a member of the White House staff one day asked an usher why every so often the chairs in the state rooms had to be re-upholstered. Nobody ever sits on them.

He said it seems sightseers are not satisfied with just gawking about. They want to touch things as well. And when you get as many as up to 10,000 sightseers a day caressing the backs and arms and seats of chairs and sofas the wear is appreciable.

IF YOU get to Washington after they start the tours again you ought to look in at the White House. Guides will give you all the facts about the various rooms you may see.

Of course you won't be able to visit the second floor, where the family lives, and it isn't very likely you'll ever see the President or the First Lady or Margaret.

But you will be able to get a glimpse of the famous East Room with its gilt piano, heavy chandeliers and soft coloring, the Green Room, the Blue Room, the Red Room and the State dining room, where many of history's great people have dined with our presidents.

The family quarters on the second floor were redecorated when the Trumans moved into the White House. Bedrooms of each member of the family are accompanied by large sitting rooms.

There is a piano in the main sitting room at the end of the second floor corridor, and Margaret has one in her sitting room. Both the President and his daughter keep them in condition by playing them whenever there's a free moment.

Poisons like lye, insect sprays and disinfectants should be kept in high shelves where children cannot reach them.

A FRIEND IN NEED

The fine traditions behind the family physician are symbolic of his undeviating dependability. They are redundant with legends of self-sacrifice, hardship, and suffering. Now, as never before, you need your family physician. You need his counsel and advice to protect you from the fraudulent claims and false prophecies made by vendors of nostrums and cure-alls. These formulas usually have their origin with quacks and charlatans. Seek the advice of your physician. Be governed by his counsel. Depend on him as generations have done before you. Bring his prescriptions to us. We will follow his instructions to the last degree.

INGS OF TOMORROW: The Story of Aviation

BY CHARLES TRACY
Aviation editor, Cleveland Press; former Army pilot
(Written for NEA Service)

(1) Aviation today is on the threshold of a new era—the supersonic age. Ambitious man, having simplified in 43 years the problems of flying and attained speeds greater than 500 miles an hour, struggles to break through the barriers preventing him from traveling faster than sound—763 miles an hour. New designs are necessary to make possible these supersonic flights. Tremendous new power is becoming available in rocket and jet propulsion engines, rapidly developed under the pressure of war.

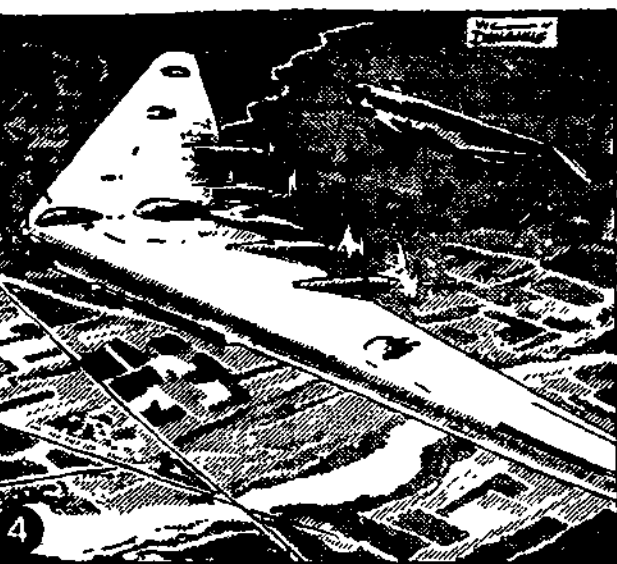

(2) Propeller-driven planes will have little use in the new era. The cylinder-and-piston engine which has pushed man's wings aloft from his first flight to the present has reached the peak of its usefulness. Commercial and military craft will be jet-propelled in the immediate future. At 600 m. p. h. air travelers will become accustomed to smooth, high-altitude flights. Rockets will follow the jets. In experiments this year the Army sent rockets modeled after the German V-2 into the ionosphere 834 miles at a speed of 3500 m. p. h. Information gained from the delicate instruments these pilotless, radio-controlled craft carried will aid man to plan his own altitude-record-shattering flights.

(3) Air terminals with hotels and shopping centers—miniature cities in themselves—are being planned for tomorrow's air travelers. New York's Idlewild and the terminal proposed for Burbank, Cal., are forerunners of tomorrow's stepping-off points to major cities of the globe. Helicopters will find an important use as air limousines connecting the heart of each city with its airports. The Westair Helicopter Terminal planned for New York may be duplicated in many large cities. Helicopters are already carrying mail to airports from downtown post-offices.

No. 8: Faster Than Sound

(4) While aeronautical engineers await the perfection of jet and rocket propulsion to power tomorrow's sky giants and meteor-swift fighters, they are producing the ultimate in aircraft powered by reciprocating engines. Howard Hughes' immense eight-engined flying boat, made of wood, will be capable of carrying 700 persons. It is the largest plane ever built. The Northrop flying wing, XB-35, first of a fleet of 15 giant tailless Army bombers, is 25 per cent more efficient than are such conventional types as the Boeing B-29. Its designers plan similar transports, 100 m. p. h. faster than current types.

(TOMORROW: New Terror in the Air.)

SPRING CREEK SEAMAN IN AIR-SEA RESCUE

According to information received by relatives at Spring Creek the life of Harold Gohn, merchant seaman, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Gohn, of Spring Creek, was saved by an air-sea rescue plane of the Coast Guard several weeks ago. Gohn and another sailor shipping on the SS Tri-Mountain from New York to San Pedro were stricken with appendicitis 500 miles off San Diego. The rescue plane landed on the open sea and successfully evacuated the sick men, taking them to the naval hospital at San Diego where they were treated and from which they have since been released.

Gohn served in the navy for six years during the war and has been shipping as a merchant seaman for the last two years.

Two Scouts Advanced To Rank of Eagle

Two Warren County Boy Scouts were advanced to the highest rank in Scouting Thursday night at the advanced review held at the Court House. David and Donald Johnson, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Johnson, of Irvine, were advanced to Eagle rank. Both boys are members of Troop 22 Irvine where their father, W. C. Johnson, serves as chairman of the Troop Committee.

David and Donald Johnson are members of the Irvine Presbyterian church and attend Youngsville High School. Both boys are members of the football team. They have been members of Troop 22 Irvine for four years.

Robert Huntley, Troop 14 Russell, advanced to Star rank at Thursday's review. Six Scouts advanced to life rank. Gail Blimber, William Erickson, Scoutmaster William Moll of Troop 2, Warren; Larry Mourer and Bill Laufemberger of Troop 24, Youngsville; and Joseph Carr, Troop 21 Youngsville, were reviewed and passed to L's rank.

Members of the advancement committee serving on the review board were Chairman H. L. Blair, W. O. Jones, E. B. Blimber, L. W. Garber, B. H. White, Scoutmaster D. H. Lay and Scout Executive Frank Parker.

The advancement committee made plans for the Court of Honor which is set for Thursday, November 14, 1946. The public is invited to attend this Court of Honor and see the Scouts receive their badges for these high ranks. A very fine Scout movie will be shown as part of the program.

The committee set December 30, 1946 as the date for the next advanced review, and planned the program of meetings for 1947.

GOING OVERSEAS

Lt. and Mrs. Richard Rendina of Baltimore, Md., spent the past week here visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Boyd, 211 West street. The Rendinas are spending the officer's leave in New York, Cleveland and Warren, after which he will leave for overseas assignment.

ON FURLOUGH

Pfc. Carl C. Spink, Jr., located at the Clinton County Army Air Field, Wilmington, O., is home on ten-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Spink, Sugar Grove.

Paul Lindell were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Kern and Mrs. Annie Kern of Erie, Doudolph Peterson of Youngsville, Miss Amanda Peterson of Warren was a Sunday guest at the Lindell home.

The Young People's Sunday school class will gather paper Thursday evening. Anyone having papers please have them ready and contact members of the class.

Mrs. Will Lyon and Harry Ludwick attended an executive committee meeting of the agricultural Extension at the Y. W. C. A. on Thursday.

Robert Toner of Erie was a recent visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Will Lyon.

Mrs. Scott Phillips of Russell spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Will Lyon.

BUSINESS HITS PEAK

General business in the Oil City-Bradford industrial area in September was at a new peak for the month. Based on many debits, factory payrolls and industrial power sales, and using 1935-1939 as 100 the index stood at 208, a gain of 9% over a year ago. From August to September the index made a nominal decline of one point. New records for the month were shown for telephone and factory payrolls in the 5-county area. Postal receipts were the best since 1941 and new car and truck sales in the county since before 1940. From August to September industrial power sales and payrolls increased after seasonal adjustment but postal receipts, employee hours and employment declined.

There is apparently no change in nutritive value of foods due to freezing them.

YOUNGVILLE NEWS

ENJOY MISSIONARY ADDRESS
The co-operative dinner served Friday evening at 6 p. m. in the Methodist Church dining room by the afternoon and evening groups of the W. S. C. S. and their guests was well attended. The honor guest, Miss Carrie Kenyon, spent many years in missionary work in Malaya and when war conditions made it impossible for her to remain longer, took up missionary work in Cuba which she found as needy a field as the Orient. She returned from Cuba in July of this year.

A beautifully filled buffet table was used in serving the dinner. Three long tables in the dining room were very attractive with large center bouquets of chrysanthemums. Autumn leaves and pine cones were also used in decorations.

Besides the fine address of Miss Kenyon on missionary work in the east, and war, pleasing entertainment features were several numbers by an orchestra consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Davis, Philip Baumgardner and William Horner, and a vocal solo by Miss Barbara Knapp. Mrs. Nellie Anderson conducted a devotional period closing with prayer by Rev. E. W. Chitester. A short business session was held to hold a tea session was conducted in which it was a bazaar by the circles and W. S. C. S. in the early part of December.

Appreciation is expressed for those who took part in the program and for the committee consisting of Mrs. Mirtie Kay, Mrs. Flora McDowell, Mrs. H. H. Husted, Mrs. Frank Ewers, Mrs. Betty Patch, Mrs. Raymond Kerr and Mrs. Jennie Finlan.

MORE IMPROVEMENTS

A master clock is being installed in the Youngsville School Building with an electric control which will ring bells for classes, and observe a holiday on Saturday and Sunday.

The new addition to the Youngsville Dry Cleaning establishment is joining the main building on Railroad street which has recently been purchased from the Siggins estate. It was first planned to have this building on College street extension.

Stanton-Werner All-Star Efforts Rites On Saturday Indicate Success In Russell Church For Club Project

The autumn wedding of Louise Stanton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Werner, of "Ruff Acres", Russell, and H. Ronald Stanton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stanton, Russell, took place Saturday afternoon in the Methodist church.

Beautiful yellow and white pumpkins were arranged in baskets on the altar, with a background of palms and lighted candles in candelabra. Lighted candles also decorated each window. Rev. Philip Schick, pastor, and Rev. K. B. Lanning, Pleasantville, cousin of the bride, performed the double ring ceremony at two o'clock in the presence of a large company of guests. Mrs. Arthur Bugge played the traditional wedding march, as well as accompaniments for Mrs. John Stanton, who sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly".

The matron of honor was the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. J. L. Olson, who was gowned in pink net over taffeta, with which she had a matching headpiece and carried yellow and white pumpkins tied with yellow ribbon. Bridesmaids were Esther Carlstrom, Akeley, and Marion Werner, sister of the bride, both gowned in pale blue net over taffeta, with matching headpieces. They carried bouquets of yellow pumpkins tied with matching ribbon. The little flower girl was Nancy Ann Werner, sister of the bride, wearing a long pink tulle frock embroidered with pink roses and a train of pink net. Her small bouquet of yellow and white pumpkins, tied with yellow ribbon, matched that of the matron of honor.

The best man was Kenneth Stanton, cousin of the bridegroom, and ushers were John Stanton and Lawrence Werner, brothers of the principals.

The bride was escorted and given away in marriage by her father. Her lovely wedding gown was of white satin, with marquisette forming an overskirt and falling to a long train. The bodice, with sweetheart neckline, buttoned down the back to the waistline and her sleeves came to points over her hands. Her bridal veil fell from a coronet of orange blossoms and white satin ribbon tied her bouquet of white roses. Her pearls, gift of the bridegroom, completed her costume.

Her mother chose a blue crepe dress and blue accessories and Mrs. Stanton wore brown accessories with a yellow gabardine frock. Each had a corsage of red roses.

A reception for about 75 guests followed in the church parlors. Places were laid for 22 at the bride's table, with lighted candles and a four-tier wedding cake forming the centerpiece. Aunts were Gertrude Schott and Anna Williams. A pleasure feature were two beautiful solos by Preston Hoskins, of Jamestown, N. Y. Guests were from Pleasantville, Gerry, Jamestown, Cleveland, Lander, North Warren, Frewsburg, Akeley and Russell.

The couple left for a honeymoon motor trip through the south, to be at home after November 10 in Russell. For traveling, the bride chose a green wool suit with black accessories and corsage of white roses.

She was graduated from Russell High School in 1945 and is employed by the Weber-Knapp Company in Jamestown. The bridegroom was graduated from Lander High School in 1943.

A pre-nuptial shower for Mrs. Werner was given by Mrs. J. L. Olson, Jamestown. The rehearsal party was given on Thursday evening at the Werner home, with places for 15 and gifts from the couple to their attendants.

Unusually Successful

PAK's Sunday evening activities, which included a visit by the Rev. James A. Gaiser and 35 young people of Westfield, N. Y., Methodist church, proved unusually successful. The visitors arrived about four o'clock in a bus, recently purchased by their church and piloted by the pastor. Following a tour of First Presbyterian church, they were taken to view a number of nearby points of interest, returning to the church to enjoy one of the newest Cathedral films, "Go Forth".

In a discussion period which followed, the Westfield group told of its recent activities, including a boat trip to Detroit, and Warren young people told of the entertainment of the gathering. Mrs. Basil White was in charge of the committee which served supper to 128 young people afterward. Tables were decorated with candles, and a special celebration marked the birthday of Mrs. H. C. Warren, who was First church's pastor. Charles Cochener, Bob Huck, Tessie Fino and Patty Wade led some spirited group singing, and Charles Sires, with his "traveling mule", interviewed a number of the visitors. This portion of the program concluded with all singing "The Old Rugged Cross", as lights were dimmed, and a silent procession to the sanctuary. In the service which followed, Charles Cochener gave a talk and Rev. Gaiser was invited to add a few remarks. The PAK Choir, now numbering 50, gave an outstanding presentation of Kipling's "Recessional". Dick Kerr's prelude to the service was enjoyed by the older persons who came for the evening service.

Other PAK events of this week include the Club "17" dinner-meeting at 6:15 p. m. Thursday at Trinity church. All reservations are to be made with Tessie Fino no later than Wednesday. Following dinner, Carl Hull, of the public library, will speak, and the remainder of the evening will be devoted to dancing.

On Saturday, PAK "Green Caps" will have a party at the Hemlock community house, leaving the First Presbyterian church by bus at 4:45 p. m. and having a tureen supper upon arrival. Tickets may be had from Peggy Henderson and her committee.

Russell Seniors Arbutus Society Ready Comedy To To Provide Gifts Present To Public For Home At Erie

The Arbutus Missionary Society held its regular meeting in First Presbyterian church parlors Monday evening. The session opened with singing of a hymn, followed by the Presbyterian Prayer of Confession led by the president, Mrs. Robert Winger.

After the business session, a collection was taken for the purpose of buying Christmas gifts for children at Erie Neighborhood House, which is supported by the Erie Presbytery. The generous amount received will provide gifts to gladden the hearts of the many children who love Neighborhood House because of the many advantages it affords.

Miss Emma Kolfrat, who served as missionary to China for 22 years, gave the members an inspiring account of the work she had over the weekend with Dr. and Mrs. Mitchell, just back from there, and able to provide her with a great deal of follow-up news concerning girls with whom she worked in the mission schools.

Mrs. Burr Welker read letters from missionary friends working in China, and Miss Mabel Hays took charge of a Thanksgiving and Praise service which was very appropriate to the season.

Mrs. H. M. Eskin and her committee served refreshments from a beautifully decorated table. Her assistants were Mrs. James M. Smith, Miss Laura Kirberger, Mrs. F. B. Brown and Mrs. H. J. Dillemauth.

Art Department Has Interesting Program - Meeting

A very unusual but interesting program was presented at Monday's meeting of the Woman's Club by the Art Department, in charge of Mrs. W. C. Fullerton.

Guest speaker was Claybourne E. Samson, of Jamestown, N. Y. "Where We Go" was the topic, a title which gave no indication that his remarks were to deal with tombstones and epitaphs. Mr. Samson has done a great deal of study along this line and read some very amusing inscriptions from gravestones in many parts of the country.

Mrs. Wallace Gowden made announcement of the Literature Department meeting for next Monday, when Carl W. Hull, new head of Warren Public Library, will speak on "So You Want To Write A Book".

Several other announcements were made, most of these dealing with arrangements and details of the coming bazaar.

At the conclusion of the program, Miss Mildred Blair was hostess for tea, with Mrs. D. P. Morgan and Mrs. Allison Wade presiding at the attractive tea table.

Needlework Guild Reports Largest Display In History

Mrs. Norbert Peterson, newly elected president of the Branch Needlework Guild of America, reports the very satisfying total of 1620 articles collected in this year's membership drive, together with a generous sum of money in cash gifts.

The collection which came to a close with the tea and display at the Woman's Club on Friday afternoon was the most successful in the branch's 35 years of service, topping by more than 100 items the total of 1516 collected last year.

In addition to the garments given to each participating agency at the close of the afternoon, each was voted a sum of money with which to make show purchases during the coming year.

During the business session, Mrs. T. I. Donaldson read the report of the nominating committee, and the following officers were named for next year: President, Mrs. Peterson; vice president, Mrs. William L. Ball; secretary, Mrs. Stewart Beasley; treasurer, Mrs. James L. Chapman.

Of particular interest in the many items displayed was a group of more than 100 articles and a check representing the membership gift of Warren Business and Professional Women's Club, also 28 articles given by Girl Scouts and gift articles from the J. C. Peckay Company.

WARREN GROUP HAS NOMINATION

Routine business considered at the meeting of Warren Grange, held last evening in the Eagles Hall, included reading of communications and authorization for paying bills. A large slate of officers was nominated for election at the next meeting, three persons being named for the post of master. It was decided to have a "harvest dinner" in conjunction with the next meeting. The menu in attendance included 21 visitors from nearby granges.

For the program, Evelyn Tall sang three selections, "Snow Flakes" by Cowden; "The North Wind Doth Blow" by Elliott; "Robin Slings for Me" by Waga. Following were three vocal numbers by Betty Lawson, "Bride's Prayer" by Gorham, "I Have To Go To Bed By Day," Nevins; "Evening Prayer" from Humberdink's "Hansel and Gretel." Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simones gave an amusing skit, "It Happens In The Best of Families." To conclude, Bonnie Johnson sang three selections: "I Love Thee" by Grieg; "Bird Rapunzel" by Schneider; "L'Amour, Toujours L'Amour" by Friml. Refreshments served by the social committee brought the evening to a close.

Penn Drops To Ninth in AP Football Poll as a Result Of their 17-14 Loss to Princeton

New York, Nov. 5.—(AP)—It didn't take a recount today to determine the results of the weekly college football poll. Penn's drop to ninth place was the result of its 17-14 loss to Princeton last Saturday.

Army Has Hurt All Carrier

Vest Point, N. Y., Nov. 5.—(AP)—The Army's football players and their legion of faithful followers can breathe a bit more easily today—anyone breathes easily during a week before an Army-Notre Dame game—with the news that the carrier will not be in the line of battle.

SPORTS LETTERS

Knowing that the Times-Mirror desires to give the smaller towns of the county an evenhanded and fair account of the football game, I think it would be a swell thing if Sheffield High's football team had a crack at Warren. The overline is today about the best in the whole county, and from indications they would take the Warren territory.

INNOCENT

"Snippy" answers to customers? The "run-around"? The "let-em-wait" attitude? Not at Personal Finance Company! My customers have declared me innocent!

And they say I'm not guilty either of saying "No" to them when they ask for something. Proof: 4 out of 5 who ask for a loan here—get it!

"Personal" makes loans from $25 to $250 on signature alone, or on furniture or auto. Friends, relatives or employer not notified.

Usually I say "Yes" to loan requests in a hurry. But even when circumstances are unusual, I try to find a way to work out a deal. That's why "Personal" is so often able to make loans that others cannot.

Like most people, I don't believe in unnecessary borrowing... but when a loan is needed or to your advantage, I'll be glad to say "Yes." Any time you need extra cash—see me, won't you? I'm at Personal Finance Co., 216 Liberty street, second floor, over Lester Shoe Store. Phone 285.

PIAA Meetins Are Being Held In Pennsylvania For Discussion Of 1946 Cage Rule Changes

The scene has shifted through Altoona and Pittsburgh in a series of "clinics" the PIAA is holding through the state to acquaint officials with changes in the 1946 basketball rules.

Dr. Frank P. Maguire, commissioner of officials for the PIAA and member of the United States and Canada, addressed the first of such meetings last Thursday night at Altoona followed by another meeting at Pittsburgh Friday night. Other interpretative meetings will be held November 6, Penn-Harris Hotel, Harrisburg; Nov. 7, Central Catholic High, Allentown; Nov. 8, Scranton University, Scranton; and Nov. 13, Upper Darby High, Upper Darby.

Dr. Maguire, in the first meeting laid stress on changes which permit more substitutions in the final four minutes of play. One new rule provides that "the game watch shall be stopped for a dead ball at any time after an official's intermission in the second half, including any extra period. During these last playing minutes (four or less), the watch shall also be stopped as soon as the ball goes through the basket on a successful field goal."

Dr. Maguire said automatic stopping of the timer's watch on a dead ball would permit coaches to make numerous substitutions "without killing time."

Another change provides that "after the last period officials' intermission, a player may return to the game after having been withdrawn a second time." Last year a player taken out in the last four minutes of play was not allowed to return to the game; now a coach may remove a player and return him during this period.

Edmund C. Wicht of Harrisburg, executive secretary of the PIAA, told officials they would be required to attend 80 percent of the meetings conducted by their chapter and warned that if they failed to do so "without an excuse from the board of officials" next year they will be without officials' cards.

8 TEAMS ON SCHED IN "Y" CITY LEAGUE

The "Y" City Basketball League has been reformed this season with eight teams definitely on the book, the last three spots being doubtful at last week's meetings being filled by the Times-Mirror, National Forge, and G. G. Greene's. The first five teams to report definitely were Baker's Cleaners, Warren Taverns, Struthers-Wells, Sylvania, and O'Connors.

Much business was cleared up in last night's meeting in getting everything in readiness for the opening night of November 23. Two games will be played each night on Monday and Thursday, the first game starting at 7:30 and the last at 8:30 p. m.

The rosters, which will consist of five to ten players, will be handed in along with the fee of five dollars to Bill Mulvey at the "Y" before November 18th. The schedule is being drawn up and will appear in the Times within a few days.

The referees this season will be Joe Waples and "Dix" Hines, the scorer will be Dick Lucia, and the gate keeper Lynn Putnam.

MASONTOWN TO BE TOUGH NEXT SUNDAY

Based on information from the Pittsburgh section the Mason town Pals will enter Sunday's game a slight favorite to take the Red Jackets into camp.

The team is said to be built along the line of the McKeesport Veterans, and, according to Tony Mason, manager of the Sharon Merchants, a man who knows Pittsburgh district teams, they will be more than just tough.

"After next Sunday," he says you will refer to them as anything but Pals, adding that in addition to being a powerhouse, every player is hard hitting, and none care what they hit with.

Mason, who whitewashed the Sharon Merchants early in the season, and, said Mason, "the Pals almost wrecked the entire squad."

Tonite the Red Jackets will work out on Beatty Field, at six o'clock, with several additional workouts slated before the end of the week, according to Coach Ken Whistner.

MEET SHIFTED

Hagerstown, Md., Nov. 5.—(AP)—The Interstate Baseball League's Nov. 18 meeting to elect officers has been shifted from Wilmington, Del., to Lancaster, Pa., (Brunswick Hotel), League President J. V. Jamison announced today.

He subsequently became a policeman and rose to the post of inspector on the Philadelphia Police Department, from which he retired in 1931.

Bukowski, who scouted Detroit when they barely lost 21 to 20 to Marquette, said the Titans were "the best blocking team I've ever seen." It was Detroit's second loss in seven games.

HUNTER HAS HEART ATTACK

Norristown, Pa., Nov. 5.—(AP)—John Barthold, 67, a former pitcher for the Philadelphia Athletics, collapsed and died yesterday while hunting at nearby Fairview Village.

Montgomery County Coroner W. J. Rushing said Barthold's death was due to a heart attack. Three of Pennsylvania's four other hunting season fatalities since the start of the small game season last Friday have been listed as heart attack cases.

MINIS WINS AWARD

Philadelphia, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Tony (Skipper) Minis, Penn's great back, has been selected as the first player to receive the Maxwell football club's weekly award of outstanding player of the week for the third time.

Minis, who was presented the award at the club's luncheon yesterday, won the honor as a Penn freshman two years ago and again last year while playing for Navy. His latest award was for his brilliant play against Princeton last Saturday when Penn went down in a 17 to 14 defeat.

DIETRICH BACK

Philadelphia, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Bill Dietrich, once hailed as one of the greatest schoolboy athletes with the Philadelphia Athletics where he began his major league career in 1930.

The signing of the 36-year-old right-handed pitcher who was declared a free agent by the Chicago White Sox at the end of last season, was announced yesterday by A's manager Connie Mack.

Dietrich remained with the A's until 1936 when he shifted to the Washington Senators. He pitched a no-hit no-run game for the Senators against the St. Louis Browns on June 1, 1937.

FOOTBALLERS DIE

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Joseph Lakotsky, 24, a guard on the Shenandoah team in the Pennsylvania Professional Football League, died yesterday in Locust Mountain Hospital.

Lakotsky's death was the second football fatality in the state in 24 hours.

Theodore Miah, 21, of Reading, Pa., died Sunday night of injuries received earlier in the day in a greater Reading Conference game.

Dr. W. T. Leach, superintendent of Locust Mountain Hospital said Lakotsky's death was the result of complications induced by the injuries. He explained that the football player had been a patient until last Friday when he was discharged. However, he was re-

Patricia McKinney Church Bride Of Grand Valley Man

A pretty fall wedding took place in the Saron Lutheran church, Youngsville, Thursday, October 21, when Miss Patricia McKinney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. McKinney, Youngsville, became the bride the Alan Tubbs, son of Mrs. H. Persing, Grand Valley. The Rev. Earl E. Carlson officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with ferns and pink and white chrysanthemums.

Wedding music was played by Miss Shirley Johnson, of Jamestown, N. Y., a former classmate of the bride.

The bride was lovely in a light blue gabardine suit with black accessories and wore a white orchid corsage. Mrs. Robert Abraham attended her sister as matron of honor, and wore a mist green suit with brown accessories and a pink rose bud corsage.

Arthur Tubbs of Titusville, was his brother's best man.

The bride is a graduate of Youngsville High School and prior to her marriage was employed by the New Process Company. The groom is also a graduate of Youngsville High School and was recently discharged from the navy. The newlyweds left immediately from the church for a short trip and upon their return will reside in Titusville where the groom is now employed.

A representative of the Social Security Board will be at the Employment Service Office 225 Pennsylvania avenue W., Warren, Pennsylvania, on Tuesday, November 22 at 1:30 p. m., is announced today by E. W. Farabaugh, Manager of the District Office in Erie, Pa.

Office hours in Warren, Pennsylvania are held regularly on the second and fourth Monday of each month, but due to Armistice Day being on Monday, office hours will be held Tuesday, November 22.

Persons desiring to claim Old-Age and Survivors Social Security Benefits are invited to visit the representative. He will also give assistance and information on all other Social Security matters, such as account numbers, registration of new employers and wage records.

Wage earners who are 65 or older or the families of wage earners who have died, may be eligible for benefits upon filing a claim. Mr. Farabaugh said.

Students Play At November Session Of Music Boosters

Matters of increasing attendance and program numbers for the remainder of the season were discussed at the November meeting of the Warren School Music Boosters Club, held last evening in Beaky school auditorium.

The meeting was conducted by Lyle N. Schuler, vice president, in the absence of President Richard G. Smith. Routine reports were given by Mrs. Harry Hutchings and Mrs. W. C. Fuchler reported for the auditing committee.

For the program, Harry Summers presented Ernest Kaebnick, fifth grade trumpet player, who was accompanied by his sister, Ruth, for two selections, "Abide With Me" and "Old Black Joe." Mrs. Tessa Kline, piano pupil of Mrs. Charles Eaton, who played "Waltz in C sharp minor" by Chopin and "The Rain Storm" by Cuthbert Harris.

Wetmore Coal Operation Is Closed Down

Wetmore, Nov. 5—Wetmore's coal industry, which sprang into prominent existence little more than a year ago with great promise, today was passing on as a current economic failure, but with possibilities in years to come when it will be profitable to clear off 80 feet of rock, shale, earth and forest to reach the vein.

A double line railroad siding of 1,000 feet, huge coal tipples and some of the biggest and costliest construction equipment to be found, were moved into the Wetmore area, when a vein of semi-anthracite coal was discovered a few feet beneath the surface.

Tests disclosed tremendous quantities of coal through the area sufficient to take out hundreds of tons a day for a score of years, but the tests failed to show the waviness nature of the coal vein which has forced suspension of mining as an unprofitable venture.

Three Auto Damaged A Machine Skid

State police investigate two motor accidents yesterday. The first took place at 7:15 a. m. when a car driven by George Snyder, 3215 South Fairview street, Fort Wayne, Ind., skidded and hit the car of Gunnard Gustafson, 9 New street and all the cars of Laura Deming, 214 Russell street. All of the cars were damaged and the total damage to the three amounted about $400. No one was injured in the crash. Mr. Snyder stated that he applied his brakes on the wet pavement and his machine skidded. The accident took place near the entrance into the ne Penelope project.

At 9:15 a. m. another accident was investigated at the junction of Route 62 and the Kiantone road when a car driven by Joseph P. Alia, 18 Eddy street, hit the car of John W. Harrison, 344 S. Marys street, St. Marys. Damage to the extent of $325 was suffered by both cars. No one was injured in the crash which was caused by an error in knowledge of which road the stop sign governed.

Junior Recital By Florence Freeman Is Well Received

Florence Freeman, Pittsfield, who did her early piano work with Lilian Jackson, Youngsville, and is now studying with Dr. LeRoy B. Campbell at Warren Conservatory of Music, played a very pretty program for her junior recital.

Her numbers were done with fine deliberation and ease, a grace and charm which combined with an admirable tone. In her first group, three compositions by Dett were played for the first time for a Conservatory recital and struck a responsive chord with her large audience of relatives and friends.

The Humoresque by Juon was given with charming grace, a Russian favor and the "Wedding Day at Troldhaugen" by Grieg was played with strong rhythmic brilliance and effective dynamic contrasts. She was at her best in the Beethoven Concerto in C Major. This work, a great favorite with the composer, is full of the classic idiom of his day, runs, trills, difficult passage work, and some of the writer's choicest bits of melody.

Mary Mangus, vocal pupil of Byron Swanson, assisted the pianist. She has developed a beautiful soprano voice that is pure, in full of delightfully rich resonance. Her first group was of the classic order, while her second consisted of three charming songs by Victor Herbert, all sung with excellent taste and tone.

Adelaide Swanson was the accompanist for the singer and Lil-

RELIEF MEETING
There will be a meeting of the Warren Relief Association Thursday at eleven o'clock at the Y. V. C. A.

MAKING A RECORD
Warren county is just like every other section in the nation, with record-breaking number of marriages and births. The average number of births will reach an all-time high in 1946, the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company forecast. "This year we doubtless see the largest crop of babies ever born in our country," the statisticians say, "the number exceeding the 3,127,000 born in 1943, the previous high. Marriage has risen sharply since demobilization, and in 1945 in 1946 we expect to exceed the 1,770,000 reported in the banner year, 1942."

LOCAL MEN FINED
Three Warren men returning from a hunting trip near Chambersburg were picked up in Kar on Sunday and paid fines totaling $150 for having in their possession 15 rabbits over the two-day limit set by law. Officials of the State Game Commission made the arrests. The trio, Henry D. Peters, Paul B. Smith and Gail J. Hunter, were stopped by the officers and their car searched.

DEMONSTRATION PLANNED
A plow adjustment demonstration will be held on the farm of Robert Scott, Lottsville, Thursday, November 7 at 1:30 p. m. Since plowing requires a considerable expenditure of time and power, it is desirable that the plow be adjusted to do the best possible job under the existing conditions. The procedure for checking, adjusting and hitching the mold-board plow will be taken up by R. J. McCall, agriculture engineer from State College.

APPEAL IS ISSUED
R. B. Maxwell, secretary of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation has issued an appeal for prevention of accidents to pedestrians. Maxwell said that 476 pedestrians have been killed on the highway and streets in the first eight months of this year, an increase of 138 over the total taken in the same period one year ago. He asked pedestrians to cooperate in the prevention work by observing the following suggestions: Cross only at intersections, looking both ways before stepping off the curb; obey all traffic lights and signals; walk on the left facing traffic in places where there are no sidewalks.

One out of three workers today is employed under the terms of union agreements.

Sealed bids will be received at office Board of School Directors, Second and Market Streets, Warren, Pennsylvania, at 4:30 p. m., Monday, November 13, 1946, from (1) general contractors for acoustical treatment and (2) from electrical contractors for supplying and installing light fixture in five class rooms in East Street School. Plans and specification available at Lawrie and Gree, Architects, 321 North Front Street, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

WILL MEET THURSDAY
The WOPU, of Russell will hold a meeting Thursday in the Methodist church at 2 p. m. It is hoped that a large turnout will be present as there are a number of important matters to come up for action.

LITTLE BACH SOCIETY
Members of the Little Bach Society, youngest unit of the Philharmonic Club, will hold their first fall meeting at the Woman's Club after school Wednesday. Meg Lewis is president of the group this season and Sally Irvine is in charge of the program.

From 1924 to 1940, American losses from floods caused damage of about $1,600,000,000.

Alan Swanson played the orchestral parts at the second piano for the concerto.

Three Injured When Car Ran Into Large Tree

Three were injured at 11:15 Monday night when an automobile driven by Louis Segel, 12 Oak street, ran into a large tree at Conewango Place. Just how the accident occurred is not clear but the car was badly damaged and the occupants all suffered hurts. Removed to the hospital for treatment it was found Mr. Segel suffered a laceration of the lower lip and his chest was strapped. No x-rays were taken and there is a possibility he may have fractured ribs. His wife, Mrs. Rose Segel suffered small cuts on the face and possible fractured ribs. She is still in the hospital but Mr. Segel was discharged following treatment.

Mrs. Bessie Schulman, 120 Pennsylvania avenue, east, also in the car, suffered a laceration over the left eye and several small cuts on her nose. Her right arm was also bruised. She was discharged after treatment.

Chapter 8

HE WONDERED how Freya had withstood the imprisonment of her husband, what damage was done to that living part of her he knew so well. But she had a strength all her own. It was in the crackling of her curly brown hair in the moulding of her face. Every five foot seven inches of her suggested strength tempered by feminine grace. As Conrad watched him from the window he wondered how closely their thoughts blended.

"Where do you fit in, Conrad?" "I'm not certain I fit." Here again was that sudden half-promise of assistance.

"They'll try to whittle you down."

Conrad shook his head. "They know I'm only a surgeon."

"You seem to consider that a kind of protection."

"It is... no matter what they do, what they become, what they need like me there are no substitutes."

"But you were never a Nazi."

"No, but I'm still a German. They put us on opposite sides of the fence." Irrevocable against the window he looked like a great statue.

"For people like us," went on Niel quietly, "there are no opposite sides of the fence. Under other circumstances we could be close friends... and you know it." He practically buried his words across the room Conrad straightened impatiently.

"I wish you wouldn't talk like this or build hopes on my friendship. I have no influence."

"Of course you have your loyalties," said Niel bitterly then raised into silence. Finally Conrad collected the dishes on the tray.

"I'll take these downstairs. Shall I come back?"

"Oh no!" He said it so quickly they both avoided each other's eyes in embarrassment.

"Then we'll meet at dinner," said Conrad quietly.

But Niel didn't really want to be left alone to drive himself mad thinking in circles. He took a few strides after Conrad. "Wait!" Conrad wheeled so abruptly they almost collided. "Couldn't we go for a walk outside," asked Niel miserably, "with a guard, or two guards?"

"We'll take the horses and sleigh. The look in Niel's eyes made him turn quickly to the door.

THEY stood in the lower hall near the stairs, greatcoats on, and Conrad was bent almost double over the hall table writing a note, probably informing Steiner of their excursion. Niel had given his word of honor not to attempt escape, given a silent house he had no intention of making a getaway before learning more of the issue at stake. Suddenly from the hall upstairs came lightly running footsteps and a woman called.

"Conrad!... wait a minute." At the head of the stairs she called again. Hers was a husky voice, toned with sweetness really attained in the German language. Hand on the newel post Niel looked up. She ran down a few steps before he could see her, then she stopped in a shaft of sunlight, reminding him of a fragile porcelain figure. Only her golden hair seemed vibrant with life. At the sight of him her eyes widened and an expression almost of horror swept her face. He felt shock that she could look so on seeing him.

"Come down," Conrad was saying, "come down Stephanie." So slowly she came Niel thought he must remember forever just how she looked, with the staircase curving behind her, her face pale, almost expressionless, but her long gray eyes steamed now on his face were shadowed by emotion.

Perhaps it was to steady her that Conrad put his arm around her while he introduced them. He held her hand lightly then when he let it go she seemed to have given a silent apology. Her eyes finally fell before his and she turned to Conrad.

"I heard the sleigh bells but I thought you were going alone."

"Come with us," urged Conrad. Plainly he wanted her but she hesitated.

A. F. L. Injunction Studied By Court

Pittsburgh, Nov. 5.—(P)—Judge A. Marshall Thompson today had under advisement a second petition of the A. F. L. Teamster Union for an injunction to prevent beer distributors handling CIO-delivered beer.

The AFL union is involved in a bitter jurisdictional fight with the CIO United Brewery Workers for control of the state's 12,000 bottling workers, at present under CIO contract.

A previous injunction petition by the teamsters was rejected last week on the ground that grievance machinery in their contract with the distributors had not been exhausted.

Since that time, the western Pennsylvania Distributors Association has split into several warring groups, further complicating the teamsters' plea.

Four defendants were named by the teamsters in their original bill of complaint. But six factions were represented at a court hearing on the new petition yesterday.

Get Potatoes In Cellar Now Good Advice

Warren county potato growers are now getting the last of their potatoes into storage and, due to the fine weather of the last month, nearly all of the growers have nearly cleaned out of the ground, graded and bagged. Thousands of the Co-operative bags, each containing 15 pounds, have been filled in the county. In fact, today Warren county stands seventh in the state in the number of peck sacks filled ready for market. At the Dadds farm near Columbus about

"On my allowance, Bergen, I gotta be a Bulbsnatcher!"

Be sure to hear Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy every Sunday evening over NBC. See your newspaper for time.

YOU'RE wrong, Charlie — with lamp bulbs costing so little, nobody has to rob one light socket to fill another. Why, any woodenhead knows how little light bulbs cost. So don't let Bergen put words in your mouth. Tell him what bulbsnatching leads to—how it can make people strain their eyes, bark their shins in the dark, get so mad they tear their hair! Take a tip, folks. Get a supply of right-size bulbs today!

Librarian Is Speaker For Rotary Meet

"Know Your Library" was the subject of a very informative talk to Warren Rotarians Monday noon by Carl W. Hull, new Warren Librarian.

Mr. Hull pleased his listeners with a statement that the Warren library is far ahead of that in any town in Pennsylvania, with the possible exceptions of the largest cities. However, he regretted the fact that Warren citizens do not make more use of the library facilities.

The annual budget of the Warren Public Library is $21,000. Of this amount the school board supplies $9,000 and the borough, $6,000. The remainder comes from endowments, the Struthers fund, and gifts and memorials.

Memorial books donated to the library have a value of more than $1,000 a year, and Mr. Hull said he knew of no other comparable place where this is true.

A question period brought further interesting information and John Rossman gave the history of the school board's annual contribution to the library.

Dick Elstner, of Rochester, Pa., was a visiting Rotarian.

Paul Braunschweiger, club secretary, announced the Farmer-Rotary dinner reservations will be limited to 200 and urged everyone to get tickets early.

Mayor Edward J. Jeffries Jr., of Detroit, Mich., has become an enthusiastic tournament player and won his first Master Points at the recent Wolverine Classic Tournament in that city. Today's hand helped him to win those points.

At one table West opened the seven of spades, East put on the queen and South won. He led a small club to the king and played the four of hearts from dummy, intending to finesse the nine, but East put on the ten. Declarer won with the king, ran off the five club tricks, then led a heart. He realized that if West had five hearts to the queen, he would have opened that suit instead of the short spade suit. Of course the queen dropped and declarer made five no tricks.

When Mayor Jeffries defended the hand, he sat East and his partner opened the deuce of hearts. The four was played from dummy, the Mayor played the ten, South won with the king and then the nine of hearts. He figured that West must have the queen to open that suit, so he took the finesse.

The Mayor won and promptly laid down the jack of diamonds. South played low and the Mayor continued with the ten of diamonds. Once again South played low, attempting to block off the diamond suit, but Mayor Jeffries now laid down the ace of diamonds and ran off the rest of his diamond tricks.

With his heart trick the contract was set two, while at the other table declarer made five-odd.

The second declarer lost the hand because he was greedy. He should not have risked the heart play, especially with an unprotected diamond suit. He should have run off his fiveclub tricks and in all probability the discards would have given him a clue to the proper play.

GARLAND

The Russell Smith family have had the following as recent guests: Mrs. Lynn Chaffee, of Pittsfield, and her daughter, Mrs. Hunt, and Mr. Hunt, of South America. Mr. Hunt recently underwent a major operation in a New York hospital, being flown there following a serious illness. Mrs. H. Hunt and Wave N. Carlson, of Youngsville; Mrs. Ann Brazell and Mrs. N. E. Hulings, of Irvineton, and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Harrington and daughter, of Jamestown, N. Y.

Mrs. Joe Moore and members of her family have arrived in Garland and are living in the Moore estate. We understand they will later build new homes on the estate. Garland residents welcome these people and are happy to learn they are to live in our midst.

Mrs. Billings, a sister of Mrs. Irwin, Sr., who has been visiting in Garland this summer, left recently for her home in Oregon. She made the trip by plane.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Bristow are making plans to live in Garland this winter. Garland friends are glad to have these admirable Garlandites in our midst.

Mrs. Laura Ayers has been in Youngsville helping in the care of her sister, Mrs. Clark. Mrs. Clark is now convalescing in Mrs. Ayers home here.

Mrs. Russell Smith entertained the members of the Woman's Auxiliary Wednesday afternoon. Sixteen ladies enjoyed her hospitality.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kane were with relatives in Erie over the weekend. Their daughter, Joanne, has taken up her studies in the Erie Business College, this being her second year of training there.

Mary Lou Goodwill entertained the girls' club on Wednesday evening. Fred Bills had the misfortune to fall off a ladder while at work and is suffering from a back injury.

Audrey Smith returned from Akron, Ohio, on Wednesday evening. While there she went to the Cline Clinic, Cleveland, for an eye examination. The little girl will have to submit to an eye operation in the spring.

A beautiful new Christian flag has been purchased for the Presbyterian S. S., delighting the children.

Wedding bells rang for Donald Wagner, home on furlough from the U. S. Navy, and Miss Myrt Nam, who has been staying with her cousins here, but who reside in Titusville.

Their friends extend best wishes for happiness.

Norman Taylor was in Westfield, N. Y., on Sunday, motoring Fred Palmer out.

The Brokenstraw valley is dealing out some pretty fine weather warm enough to go out without wraps to absorb the sunshine.

WEST HICKORY

Mrs. Frank Hile was hostess to a lovely bridal shower Tuesday evening at the Clubhouse when she honored her cousin, Mrs. Joseph Care, a recent bride, the former Edith Remington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Remington. The many guests enjoyed the evening with 300 etc. A delicious luncheon was served at a long table centered with bouquets of white chrysanthemums and French marigolds. The bride received many lovely and useful gifts, congratulations and best wishes.

Sunday school class has birthday anniversary party. The third anniversary Sunday school class of Mrs. Mable Taylor celebrated with cake, games and Hallowe'en lunch Friday night, after regular meeting. All had a good time.

Born, a son, Monday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Tucker. The young lad assisted by Dr. Howard of Tionesta was named Carl Clyde and all is well. Congratulations to grandma, Mrs. Archie Tucker at whose home babe and mom are being cared for, got us the answer. "Yes I'm thrilled, this is the 20th grandchild, some record."

Mrs. Margaret Stoddard was in Warren and vicinity Wednesday on business.

Want a coon? No meat shortage here, local markets are getting a larger supply, easing the nerves of the distracted merchants, they still have to fight high prices. Not so the Raybuck family, they have a seemingly endless supply—coon, coon, coon, no less than nineteen nice pelts adorn their garage walls. We liked the shining fur best on the creatures, as they were expertly undressed, they resembled large rabbits or small calves etc. Harry Raybuck, son Don and dog Fitz have showered friends and neighbors with a tender coon. One was offered us "no like". The Raybuck family and Mr. and Mrs. Blair Stuchell and Jackie Williams enjoyed a coon supper at the Raybuck camp Thursday evening. Says Mrs. Raybuck: "They taste like chicken. Try one!"

Grapevine says, though no date for the wedding of the engaged was set, you listen for wedding bells about the middle of November. Thanksgiving bride. Plans for a Christmas tieup from others.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Siggins and Mrs. Frank Hile and daughter Barbara were callers in Tidoute Saturday evening.

Mrs. Lyle Conroe of Kane was a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burkett Sunday.

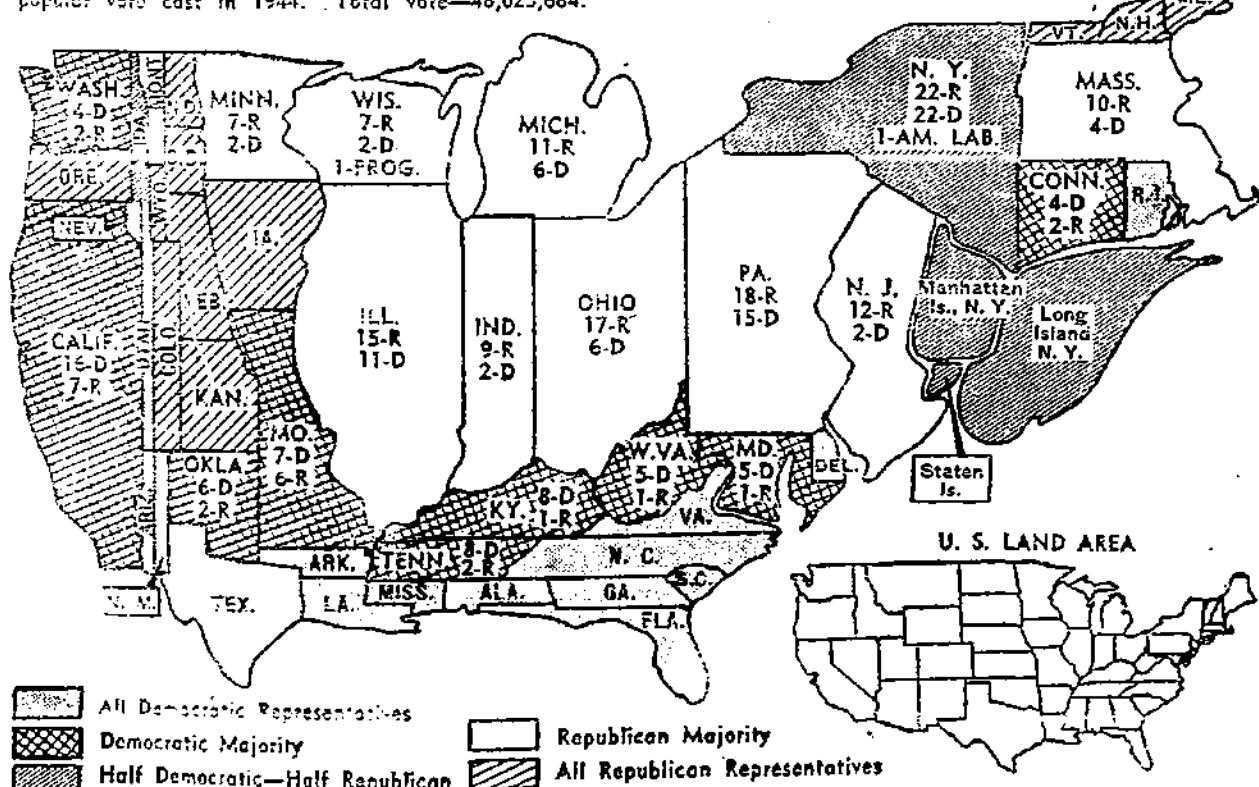

Mrs. Hilda Wheeler is now acting postmistress at our post office. Miss Evelyn Calliguri, Donald Murphy, Miss Phyllis Colosimo Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Dalrymple at Jamestown Friday evening.

Mr. Emmett Camahan of Clarion, was a Sunday caller of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sudley.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Care were guests of Mr. Care's parents Mr.
